Summary

OPATRIO: Web-based application for home care service management:

The project "OPATRIO" is aimed at increasing quality of life of seniors and people with different disabilities, who receive home care service in Slovakia. It will be done through the development and implementation of unique home care management system, as previously mentioned.

The project will be beneficial for three target groups: the clients themselves (seniors, disabled citizens and/or their family members), the municipality officials responsible for home care services provision and the employed caregivers.
